Beyond the Acts: Knowing the Unknown; Acts 17:16-34

Dionysus - god of fertility & _____
Asclepius - god of medicine & _____
Demeter - goddess of harvest & _____
Nike - goddess of _____ Athena - goddess of protection, _____, wisdom

Just because we no longer visit their altars does not mean we no longer make _____ to the same ancient gods found in Athens.

Epicureans - pursue _____, avoid pain
Stoics - god determines all, humans practice _____.

Our addiction to knowing what we don't yet know seems to begin in the Garden of Eden - when we stopped _____ that knowing God and being known by God was enough.

Paul sees they have altars to an unknown god who was _____

Paul even addresses their divine _____.

God has overlooked "not _____". But now we _____.

What god is God asking you to _____ from?

False gods will leave us _____, _____, and _____.

Jesus is not the "true _____" that we offer sacrifices to. Jesus is our _____
God whose loving Lordship we begin to live out...and whose resurrection Spirit dwells within us.
